

The Ambassador combines the art de vivre of a Relais & Chateaux with the privilege of one family's island roots, capturing not just the inimitable lifestyle luxury that brings the world to Mykonos, but the very essence of our island. For those who can read between the lines, we are not just a hotel...

The tranquillity of being away from the island's party pulse changes in a moment with a short stroll across to Psarou, with its beau monde and superyachts at anchor, or to Paranga's lively small tavernas frequented by the locals. Our private launch can take you to the mysterious ruins of ancient Delos or Rhenia's hidden coves, and even the vibrant Chora, with its whitewashed maze of boutiques and bars, is only minutes away by car.

Built in sympathy with the slope, mere steps from the fine sands of Platis Gialos, our architecture blends contemporary chic with tones and textures borrowed from the local vernacular. Interiors that embody the clean line and cool sophistication of high design flow into the quiet comfort of luxurious bedrooms and suites, or spill out onto the spectacular pool deck, all without ever breaking the spell of magnificent Aegean views.

There is an incomparable sense of ease as light-filled mornings drift effortlessly into perfect poolside afternoons at our terrace that is a world unto itself, with casual lunches and ice-cool cocktails served from George's Bar. And as shadows lean towards evenings, guests mingle over sunset aperitifs, before dining in the candle-lit glow of Efisa, one of the island's top tables.

From the attentive therapists at our Thalasso Spa, to our discreet housekeepers, friendly waiters, resourceful concierge and the ever-present director, our staff, known for their courtesy and personal touch, are all accomplices in your great escape. Total number of rooms: 37.
